

NAVY GRIDIRON WARRIORS MAKE BUT SORRY EXHIBITION

CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY DEFEATS GALLAUDET

Victors Made Touchdown and Safety After Desperate Struggle.

DIFFERENT STYLES OF PLAY

Winners Better on Line Plunging, But Mutes Are Faster on End Plays. Slow in Starting.

Catholic University, 7; Gallaudet, 0. Catholic University gridiron warriors defeated the Gallaudet College eleven by 7 to 0 on Kendall Green yesterday afternoon in a snappy contest.

The teams were about evenly matched in weight and ability. The Catholics excelled in line plunging, while Gallaudet did best on end runs. Rodier, who did the punting for the Catholics in the second half, helped his team out with his foot, and Merva and Semmes, the halves, showed occasional bursts of speed in carrying the ball on with end runs.

Both teams were rather slow in calling for plays, but the work was fast when they started. Bell was spectacular at times on the defensive for the Mutes, and ex-Captain Horton, at quarter, put up a good game, considering he was out in uniform for the first time in weeks.

The game was clean, only one penalty being imposed, and that for blocking. The Catholics took out considerable time for injuries, but played the game through without a change in the line-up.

Forward Pass Fails.

The failure of the forward pass and fumbles counted heavily against the Mutes.

Captain Moran won the toss and Maher kicked off toward the north goal, Horton bringing the oval back to Gallaudet's 35-yard line. Mosey made five yards through left tackle, Sharp added seven through the other tackle, and Horton punted to Canale in the center of the field. Semmes and Merva failed to make first down, forcing Maher to punt to 10-yard line, who was downed on Gallaudet's 5-yard line.

After Kutzleb had made five, Horton tried a short punt, Canale returning it to the 35-yard line.

Canale made eight yards on a quarterback run, Maher was thrown hard by Bell, only netting two yards on a line buck. Maher failed to gain ten on a wide end run, but on the next play Rodier fumbled, but recovered the ball with a loss of three yards. Mosey returned Canale's punt to Gallaudet's 10-yard line and on the next play added five through right tackle. Kutzleb made seven and Horton punted. C. Semmes returned to Gallaudet's 25-yard mark. Merva got through for fifteen, but on the next play Bell broke through and three Semmes for a loss.

Maher Makes Touchdown.

After Merva, Semmes, and Maher had made short gains, Merva was given the ball. He started around right end, but was knocked back. This caused him to fumble, but he recovered and turned back around left end for a sensational run of twenty yards, being stopped by Horton on Gallaudet's 5-yard line.

A line buck was stopped by the Mutes with no gain, but on the next play Maher was pushed over center for a touchdown.

The kick-off for the try at goal was dropped, leaving the score 5 to 0.

The Catholics took over the field, Horton punted to the center of the field, where Maher was downed. Maher was forced to punt after an ineffectual line-buck and Canale's failure to gain on a quarterback run. The ball struck the rush line and bounded high. The Catholics recovered and Maher kicked the 35-yard line when time was called.

Fierce Second Half.

The second half was still more stubbornly fought than the first. Gallaudet kicked off to Canale, who was downed on his 30-yard line. Maher and Merva made eight yards between them. Maher punted to Horton on the Mutes' 45-yard line. Hower made twenty yards on a line buck and run, and Shanklin added five between left end and center. Hower's forward pass was tried, but the ball struck the ground before Hower got it and it went over the goal.

Canale and Maher could only make five between them. Maher punted and Unshanklin fumbled, allowing U. A. to recover the ball on Gallaudet's 20-yard line. Isackson fell on the oval in the next scrimmage. Sharp made five and Mosey three, when Horton booted the oval to Maher in the center of the gridiron. Hower and Shanklin stopped at sample around the 10-yard line. A forcing Maher to use his foot again. A forward pass, Horton to Shanklin, netted ten yards and placed the oval again in mid-field. Kutzleb made five yards on a delayed pass and Sharp took off fifteen with half the opposing team clinging to him. Kutzleb threw a forward pass low, losing the ball.

Lucky Safety.

Canale made twenty yards dodging through the Buff and Blue ranks. Maher kicked for five, and Semmes and Merva were each good for five. Merva fumbled and Maher recovered the ball with a loss of eight yards, but the left halfback nearly made up the loss when again Horton booted the oval. Maher kicked a place kick on the 40-yard line, but failed. Hower falling on the ball.

The Mutes started a rapid march down the field. Kutzleb made five yards and then he and Mosey each worked the ends for fifteen yards, but Shanklin fumbled on the next play and it was U. A.'s ball on its own 45-yard line. Canale skirted left for seven yards, but Shanklin overtook Maher on the next and downed him for a loss.

Canale failed to gain and Rodier punted to Bell. Canale failing on the ball for a safety.

Horton kicked out, and Rodier was forced to punt again. Receiving the oval on their 20-yard mark the Mutes carried it to the center of the field, where time was called.

COMMERCE HIGH TO PLAY TECH

New Yorkers Will Meet Manual Trainers Wednesday at American League Park.

Washington is to have another big inter-city scholastic football game before the local season closes. At American League Park, on Wednesday afternoon, the day following the Central Western football contest which will decide the District High School championship. Technical High will meet the strong High School of Commerce eleven of New York, in what should be an interesting game.

Although the Central Manual team of New York, yesterday afternoon defeated the High School of Commerce by 15 to 0, the latter is reported to have one of the strongest squads representing the institution in a number of years, and should give the Manual Trainers a good fight. The latter lost to the Gothamites last year in New York by only a small margin, after one of the prettiest scholastic games seen there last season, and are anxious to retrieve the defeat.

Technical Is Busy.

Since last Tuesday's game with Central High, which was won by the latter by 11 to 4, the Maroon and Gray coaches have been drilling the men in a number of new formations and have the team in general good shape.

Another thing that will add greatly to the chance the locals have to turn the trick is that several men who were ineligible to represent the school in the Washington interscholastic series, will be able to play against the visitors, as there are no such rules concerning players in the past between the rivals who will clash on Wednesday. These men are Hart, Brewster, and Hoover. These men are familiar with the game, and had they been in Tuesday's line-up would undoubtedly have worried the Dark Blue and White team. The game will probably be called at 3 o'clock.

REVIVAL OF CYCLING FOUNDED ON REASON

With dealers on every hand reporting better business in wheels than they have seen in half a dozen years, and with ocular evidence on every street that riders are more numerous daily, it would be rash to deny that the wheel is returning to popular favor by great leaps and bounds.

And, after all, why not? When all is said, and it is not the nearest sport the nation ever enjoyed, and is not any form of exercise to be welcomed, which will lure us away from city smoke and fog, out to fresher, sweeter air? Wheeling, too, gives the man or woman—who is chained to an office chair for eight hours daily, an invigorating start in the morning, and a welcome bit of exercise at the day's close. It's worth something to pump your lungs full of oxygen for half an hour before tackling the bread and butter problem, and to ride homeward in the evening will blow away the cobwebs from an overworked brain, as nothing else can possibly do.

Such are the arguments of the enthusiasts.

MINNESOTA WINS BY TWO SAFETIES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 24.—Minnesota defeated Indiana on the gridiron here this afternoon by 8 to 0. It was defeat for the Hoosiers, but it was not at all such a game as the Gophers had looked for. They found Indiana a decidedly tough proposition. The Hoosiers were not only the first to score, but had the Gophers tied at the end of the first half at 6 to 6. It really looked like Indiana for a time. Heckman got the ball on a fumble and ran five yards for a touchdown. Goal was kicked. Shortly afterward Minnesota shoved Hare across the goal line for a safety after he had caught a punt on Indiana's two-yard line. Marshall landed a place kick tying the Hoosier's.

In the second half Minnesota chalked up two more points.

LAFAYETTE FINDS SNAP IN LEHIGH

Began Scoring Early and Finally Rolled Up 33 to 0 by Judiciously Mixing Plays.

EASTON, Pa., Nov. 24.—Lafayette defeated Lehigh today, 33 to 0. After two minutes of play, Lafayette scored. Kirberger blocked a punt and placed the ball on Lehigh's 2-yard line. McAvoy made a touchdown, and Chalmers and Welsh each made similar scores in the first half on long runs. In the second half touchdowns were made in quick succession by Chalmers, Norris, and McAvoy, Lafayette gaining almost at will.

PRO. BASKETBALL NOTES.

Doings of the past week in the Professional Basketball League:

The Commissioners defeated the Eastern Athletic Club after a hot contest, and the Washington Light Infantry put the kibosh on the E. A. C. by one point.

Dunn, of the E. A. C., is certainly playing a great game.

Boyle, center on Commissioners, is right there with the goods, always playing a clean and scientific game.

The Ordways have had a quiet week, not playing a game, but the coming week will play the E. A. C. on Tuesday, and the Commissioners on Friday. Both games should be very interesting and all the spectators want is a clean game.

James, the crack Carroll Institute player, got into the game with the E. A. C. last week and strengthens the team wonderfully. They played the Commissioners to a standstill, playing the first half in a whirlwind style and losing out in the second by a small margin. They also played the W. L. I. off their feet, and with little bit more in the second half would have taken their scalp.

Moriarty's spectacular shot in the E. A. C. game on Tuesday was a beauty.

Leach, another crack Y. M. C. A. player, has turned to the pro ranks, playing a great game with the W. L. I. Friday night.

Now that the teams have settled down and roped in all the best players in town, it will be hard to pick the winners from the line-ups of the following teams: With the E. A. C. are James, Dunn, Moffit, DeMar, Burlingame, and Turner, with Boyd as manager. With the Commissioners are Handbobe (manager), Chism (captain), Drager, Boyle, Moriarty, and Hughes. With the Ordways are Pratt (manager), Sannino, Thompson, Reges, Hughes, Bonnaviers, and Clum. With the W. L. I. are Shreve (manager), Loftus, Woodhead, Cramer, Barker, Taylor, Robey, and Leach.

The games become more interesting and the excitement is plainly evident by the attendance, as each game is played.

SOUTHEAST PLAYGROUNDS WHIP NAVY YARD JUNIORS

The Southeast Playgrounds football team yesterday defeated the apprentice boys of the Navy Yard by 2 to 0.

Although the junior machinists were greatly outwitted in the line their defense was brilliant throughout. With two minutes left to play, the third down, and fifteen yards to go, the athletes carried Navy back across the goal line for a safety.

The game was called after the first half on account of darkness. For Navy, Berkeley and Hodgson starred, while Coleman and Harlan played well for the winners.

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR MOTOR CARNIVAL

Southern Manufacturers Planning to Give Their Northern Brothers Surprises at Florida Show.

All arrangements have been completed for the carnival of Venice on the Lake Worth, Palm Beach, Florida, February 2. A firm that has charge of the European water carnival illuminations is at work on plans to make the night carnival at Palm Beach the crowning feature of the third annual regatta given by the Palm Beach Power Boat Association.

Director George E. Andrews, of the association, writes from west Palm Beach, that up to November 15 sixteen individual entries had been made by local power boat owners and that he expected more.

The Florida motor boat builders are very ambitious to show the Northern designers that fast boats can be built by the natives. It is said that the well-known Florida designer, Dewey, has something "up his sleeve" in a twenty-one footer that he expects to surprise Northerners with.

HICKMAN AND WHITE IN NEW ENTERPRISE

Charley Hickman, right fielder on the Washington team of the American League, and one of the greatest distance hitters in the game, has formed a partnership with Dr. Harry White, of Washington, the famous spitball pitcher of the champion Chicago White Sox. They will conduct a sporting goods store at 1213 G street northwest, under the firm name of Hickman & White. They expect to be ready for business about December 1, as Hickman ingeniously explained yesterday that he thought there was a chance to pick up some easy money for his own Christmas presents by selling chest developers, dumbbells, etc., which have been almost as standard as presents as knit slippers for ministers or soup ladles for brides.

Hickman is studying dentistry while Dr. White has been a tooth carpenter for some time. Both have a pull with pretty much everybody who knows them, but in business relations have promised to confine it to the teeth and not the legs of those with whom they deal.

GEORGETOWN-G. W. U. WINNER A PROBLEM

Teams Appear More Evenly Matched Than Ever Before, and Both Confident.

EACH HAS MANY VETERANS

But New Rules and Different Coaching Systems Keep Bettors Guessing. Scores Misleading.

What promises to be one of the greatest games in the gridiron history of the city will take place Thanksgiving Day, when Georgetown and George Washington play their annual contest on Georgetown Field.

In previous years, at least up to last year, the result of the game was a foregone conclusion. In 1905 the George Washington team then Columbian, was defeated by 34 to 0. In 1904, when Georgetown turned out the strongest team that ever represented that institution, the Hatchettes were snowed under to the tune of 50 to 0. All the regulars with one exception, were laid out, and at the conclusion of the contest the scrub team that had been put in their places was about all in. Last year, Georgetown's change of policy and consequent slump, gave the downtowners a new lease of life, and it was only after the hardest kind of a contest that they went down before Georgetown by 12 to 6. And now with the 1906 game but a few days off it seems to be a toss up between the two teams.

Georgetown Much Strengthened.

Georgetown's eleven is admitted to be much stronger than last season. Nearly all of last year's men entered school this fall, and with this nucleus to work on and the addition of promising new material, Coach Reilly has whipped them into a fast and heady team. Though most of them are youngsters, a thing which was particularly evident in the Virginia contest, when the entire team seemed to be suffering from a bad case of stage fright, a steady improvement has been manifested in their playing, and they should be in top form by Thursday.

Down at Van Ness Park Coach Willie Crowell has worked wonders, and the Hatchette team is by far the best ever turned out from the downtown institution. Nine of last year's stars will be seen in the line-up when the game starts, and the only new members being Sutt and Licarion, who have done yeoman services this fall.

In Captain Steenerson the team has a veteran of three Georgetown-George Washington games, and one who is resolved that his last year in the game shall wipe out the sting of past defeats. Beard, at left halfback, is a hard, consistent player, and will be heard from in the Thanksgiving day battle. Sommers and Morris are two of the best tackles in this section for their weight, both offensively and defensively, and Gunning and Lorando, by the way they nipped Capt. Hammond Johnson's end runs in the Virginia game last Saturday, showed themselves to be sterling ends.

Scores Misleading.

It will be seen from this analysis that there is very little to choose between the teams. Last Saturday's contest with Virginia misled many, who from comparative scores, dope the Hatchettes for an easy victory. Without entering into the whys and wherefores of the case, it can be confidently stated that this supposition is entirely erroneous, and Georgetown will probably be a slight favorite, or, at least, at even money, before Thursday.

It is now confidently stated that Neil, the big guard concerning whose eligibility there has been considerable discussion, will not be seen in the Blue and Gray line-up on Thanksgiving day.

NAVY DISAPPOINTED BY POOR SHOWING

Score of 5 to 0 Against Virginia Polytechnic Arouses Vague Fears.

Nobody Very Brilliant

General Lack of Excellence in Performances of Midshipmen—Ball Badly Handled.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 24.—With the West Point game but one week off, the Navy team, with its best line-up on the field, was only able to win from Virginia Polytechnic Institute this afternoon by 5 to 0.

The showing was not at all satisfactory, as a substantial score was expected. Navy made several fumbles which, under other conditions, would probably have cost the game.

Virginians' Stiff Defense.

The Virginians surprised Navy with the stiffness of their defense, and time after time forced the local players to kick. The only score was made in the first half, when a blocked kick gave the ball to the midshipmen within striking distance, and Douglas towed the ball over for a touchdown, after several good gains. Norton missed goal.

Tricks Fairly Successful.

Navy attempted a number of forward passes and generally made fair gains. However, on one attempt the ball went to the visitors because it was not touched before hitting the ground, and on another attempt a Virginian recovered it. Norton attempted three quarterback runs, and made good twice, but was thrown back on the third. Dague played a swift game, getting down the field and nailing the runner who received a punt, and once recovered the ball. Though the ball was kept in the visitors' territory most of the second half, the midshipmen were not able to get it over the line or seriously menaced it. Nutter and Hodgson made occasional fair gains for the visitors, but they were not able to make them continuously. The Virginians kept the midshipmen from scoring by superior ability in recovering the ball and by Cunningham's long punts, which were not fast, and Norton and Spencer had every opportunity to run the ball back.

Nobody Brilliant.

Douglass and Piersol retired from the game early in the second half, and after that Navy did not have a distinct advantage. There was an entire absence of any particularly brilliant playing.

The fact that the Navy team could make so small a score against a comparatively unknown team has caused much worry to the Navy contingent in view of the fact that the army game will be played next Saturday. The only cause of gladness is that there were no injured players today, and the team is practically assured of beginning the Army game with the strongest possible line-up.
